Dear Parents,

The first full week is completed and we made it. It wasn't without its ups and downs, but adjustments are expected as we all get used to this format. The teachers are working very hard planning, organizing, and recording lessons. We are still trying to get some of our hardware and software updated because, as you can imagine, many school districts are needing the same things we are, so there is a backlog. I sincerely thank you for your patience this far.

We are planning another pick up/drop off for this upcoming Wednesday August 26. The format will be different. You will drive up to the overhang at the pick up area and hand over your child's work for turn in. The person there will take the work and hand you the new packet. Please follow whatever specific instructions your teacher(s) have given about the work being turned in. This drop off/pick up will begin at 8:00 am and end at 5:00 pm. If you can't make it within those times, please arrange for someone who can. Email your teacher if you need to make special arrangements.

Don't hesitate to contact me if you have questions. Have a great weekend.

Kind regards,
Patrick Eagle
